

GET INVOLVED

Now in its sixth year, European Biotech Week offers all supporters of biotechnology the opportunity to host events and develop initiatives that contribute to an increased dialogue and understanding of this amazing technology.

Potential activities are as varied as the supporters themselves, and the organisers of the Week¹ always encourage new ideas and feedback. For inspiration, flip through the magazines of the past editions on www.biotechweek.org.

There are no fees or hidden costs involved. All organisers can pool their activities on www.biotechweek.org for increased visibility and promotion.
